1. All children, except one, grow up. They soon know that they will grow up, and the way Wendy knew was this. One day when she was two years old she was playing in a garden, and she plucked another flower and ran with it to her mother. I suppose she must have looked rather delightful, for Mrs. Darling put her hand to her heart and cried, “Oh, why can’t you remain like this for ever!” This was all that passed between them on the subject, but henceforth Wendy knew that she must grow up. You always know after you are two. Two is the beginning of the end.
2. After eighteen years the Andrew Lloyd Webber musical, Phantom of the Opera, has become the longest running show in Broadway history. Becoming the longest-running show in Broadway history is the latest confirmation that Phantom of the Opera is among the most successful entertainment productions of any kind ever. Across the world Phantom is calculated to have made three point two billion dollars. Compare that to the highest-grossing Hollywood movie, Titanic, which grossed less than half of that figure. Lord Lloyd Webber has said he was overwhelmed by the production’s success and noted that Phantom had taken the longest-running Broadway record from Cats –another of his own musicals.
